

Chilean law firm V&V launches

Posted Tuesday, June 1st 2021

V&V, a new law firm focused on tax and corporate matters, has launched in Chile.

The firm was founded by Luis Ignacio Vergara, a law graduate of the Universidad Diego Portales and with an LLM in international taxation from the University of Florida in the US and a master's degree in tax management from Universidad Adolfo Ibáñez.

Prior to launching the firm, Vergara had worked for more than 10 years at law firms Claro & Cía., and Morales & Besa.

"I have all the experience of working in large and demanding firms, so now I want to harness the best of that, the rigor and technical excellence, but delivering a much more personalized, close and affordable service," according to Vergara.

"That is our differentiation and added value," the founder of the Santiago-based firm added.

Vergara and his team of attorneys have advised multiple clients in matters relating to national and international taxation, acquisitions and sales of companies, defense before Chile's tax authorities, the Treasury and municipalities, tax and customs courts and superior courts of justice.

They have also advised on business restructurings.

"We are experienced and always keep ourselves updated. The constant changes in tax legislation have made it necessary to adapt certain structures and practices," Vergara added.

V&V's clients include investment firms, family businesses and estates, family offices, non-profits and individuals.

According to Vergara, the new firm's clients recognize his implementation of creative, accurate and timely solutions.

"We are committed to the highest standards of quality and ethics, always seeking to create long-term relationships with clients," he said.

In addition to his role as head partner at V&V, Vergara is also a professor on the master's degree course in tax law at the Universidad Diego Portales, and is the author of a number of academic articles published in Chile and abroad.

He is also a member of the International Fiscal Association Filters Institute of Tax Law.
